

ON MISSION!

February 2007

Dear Friends of His Church at Work,

Mission statements--many organizations struggle and work through developing them, trying to define and convey exactly what they are all about. His Church at Work (HCAW) developed ours so we could answer the common question, "What exactly do you do?"

His Church at Work's mission is to "grow the influence of the church through the work lives of its people."

Our singular focus is the church-- providing your church with the deep expertise, training, ministry tools and technology to successfully equip and commission believers to view their work as "ministry". We consider it a privilege to come alongside churches as they impact their communities for Christ through the work lives of their members.

Please enjoy this month's Momentum as we share several examples of how churches and individual believers are being intentional in their WorkLife focus. Also, if your church is not already addressing the area of WorkLife, His Church at Work is here to serve you and to help you communicate how WorkLife Ministry can transform your church.

Bless you as you see the significance of your field.

Doug Spada, Founder, His Church at Work

This Momentum includes....

- WORKLIFE MINISTRY EVOLVES FROM REALIZED NEEDS
- FRUIT OF WORKLIFE MINISTRY
- WORKLIFE MINISTRY IMPACTING LIVES!

FRUIT OF WORKLIFE MINISTRY

A thriving WorkLife Ministry produces significant eternal impact in the lives of individuals. A WorkLife Ministry aspires to RECLAIM the missional principle of equipping people to worship God with their whole life. Since the majority of our lives are spent in the workplace, a WorkLife Ministry sees work as a critical mission field and externalizes "the work of the ministry," putting it in the hands of the people.

RECLAIMING this missional principle will positively impact your church's Mission and Vision. As a result, believers will experience an AWARENESS of God's divine purpose and plan for their work lives.

Cheryl, an executive coach and mentor, experienced this impact in her own life. "This ministry has influenced me to see a future day when the church is not contained in buildings on Sundays, but instead, the church is training up ordinary working men and women to act as God's missionaries in the Monday- Friday world."

Churches that are intentional about helping their members recognize God's plan for work will see believers like Cheryl, whose faith comes alive in a largely untouched area of their lives when they feel supported and connected to a larger, Kingdom-oriented mission. Instead, they experience a renewed sense of purpose as the disconnect between Sunday and Monday begins to disappear!

WORKLIFE MINISTRY IMPACTING LIVES!

"I received a panic phone call from Kim, a client who purchased a home six months previously. Her husband had died of a heart attack while mowing the lawn. She was a widow - and she and her 9 year old daughter were alone in a new state with few friends! She called me because she knew I cared about them when I prayed with them as a client.

My husband and I have walked closely with Kim over several months. One Sunday, Kim came asking a lot of questions about God and prayer. Kim told me she had always liked God, but that she had done really bad things and was not sure God wanted anything to do with her. I told her I worshiped a Big God who could forgive anyone. Kim prayed to accept Christ!"--- Colleen, Wooddale Church, Eden Prairie, MN

Join us in celebrating as thousands of working believers like Colleen are equipped and affirmed by their church and its WorkLife Ministry--realizing they are strategically placed by God to have an amazing impact and to joyfully live out their faith and effectively seize divine moments!

WORKLIFE MINISTRY EVOLVES FROM REALIZED NEEDS

As Pastor of Evangelism at First Baptist Church, Simpsonville, SC, Rick Julian began to realize just how much stress and need there was in the workplace. He regularly encountered believers who struggled with the challenges they faced at work-- challenges which spilled over and affected many other areas of their lives.

Over time, Rick and pastor Randy Harling searched for ways to impact their members and community in relation to their work lives--finding some success, but with little traction or sustainability. That's when their paths crossed with Doug Spada, founder of His Church at Work. HCAW was able to help FBC Simpsonville develop a more intentional and sustainable WorkLife focus.

How about you and your church? Have you recognized the need to equip and commission your working believers to impact their workplaces? Check out the recent news article below which shares the experience at FBC Simpsonville and how His Church at Work can and does come alongside churches to support them in their mission to seize this tremendous opportunity for individual and community impact!
